If we aren't so bad in the problem of infrastructure, and if the tourists that come along, complain about their busted vehicles because of our roads, full of holes, The Ministry of Regional Development and Tourism(MDRT), wants to set up a national trail system of cycle, in the areas with landscapes and low traffic.

A project like this was taken as issue since 2008, when there were various talks concerning the fulfilment of ten highway cycles on road, and another eight mountainous routes for the bicycle tourism fans.

According to the bill-law elaborated of MDRT and presented by Mediafax, for the normal passing-by, there will be needed from 5 to 12 days, if we refer to national cycling routes, 2 to 5 days in the case of regional routes and utmost one day for the local ones.

These routes will be created in such way to be as spectacular as possible, in the sense of landscapes, with low traffic, on roads with asphalt or unmodernised ones.

According to the draft-law, in Romania there already exists an increased interest and wish for bicycle trails marked and approved, and the money used to create this will come from granted community funds or from other external sources.
